

JEWISH YOUTH CLIMATE ACTIVISM ACADEMY

ARE YOU READY TO LEAD YOUR COMMUNITY IN THE MOVEMENT FOR CLIMATE JUSTICE?

As a project of the joint NFTY-JYCM Environmental Justice Task Force, this academy seeks to train emerging youth activists in the skills you need to mobilize your Jewish communities to follow your leadership and take action on climate justice, the mitigation of the climate crisis through dismantling intersecting systems of oppression. We know that the climate crisis disproportionately impacts marginalized communities and poses a major threat to our current and future generations, and this academy will equip you with the skills to rally across generational lines through advocacy that creates systemic change across institutions and governments.

Join us in learning how to:

- Define Jewish identity around environmental values & connection to the Earth
- Articulate the systemic roots of the climate crisis
- Lovingly agitate the Jewish community (locally and as a whole)
- Navigate the social justice landscape
- Center anti-racism, diversity, and equity in this movement
- Serve as a leader within the national NFTY-JYCM Environmental Justice Task Force
- Develop your own JYCM KvutzaChapter within your local community

TENTATIVE DATES: FALL 2021 (6-8 WEEKS)
